

AT&T's "It Can Wait" campaign, designed to stop texting and driving, will make it's way to Dillard University on Thursday, September 20, 2012. Students are invited to watch and participate in simulation of a car wreck after the driver attempts to text and drive.

Read more about the campaign here...

---