

2013 Dillard University graduate Bridget Sisney has just been announced as a McCord Scholar, thanks to the generosity of the United Methodist Black College Fund. The Lina McCord scholars, selected from the 11 historically black United Methodist colleges and universities, are chosen by their chaplains and presidents. The student ambassadors are named for the fund's longtime executive director, the late Lina H. McCord.

Read more about this scholarship on the umc.org website...

---