

The Value in Giving

Thanks to the support of our donors, Dillard University remains a truly amazing academic and historic institution.

Our world-class nursing program is one of the oldest in Louisiana; our digital media and film projects have drawn collaborations from filmmaker Spike Lee and actor Wendell Pierce; our late alumnus Justice Revis O. Ortique was the first African-American to be elected to the Supreme Court of Louisiana; and since Katrina we have built two eco-friendly, LEED gold-certified buildings (the Professional Schools Building and our First Student Center)

These accomplishments, along with countless others by our students, faculty and alumni, are at the heart of what makes Dillard such an amazing place to receive a liberal arts education. However, maintaining this level of excellence requires continuous resources. Annual gifts from donors are an important part in ensuring Dillard is here for another century.

Whether you are a current student, alumni, parent of a Dillard student, employee, community or corporate partner--- When you give to Dillard you help strengthen our global community.

With each gift, you help to graduate young men and women who excel, become world leaders, are broadly educated, culturally aware, and concerned with improving the human condition.

We hope we can continue to count on your annual support.
